PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

Virginia Department of Rail and Public Transportation – Richmond, VA July 2006 to Present

DRPT is the state agency for rail and public transportation in Virginia, operating through three business areas of rail, transit and transportation demand management. DRPT's has an annual budget of over $624 million that leverages an overall program of $1.55 billion in rail and transit initiatives. DRPT supports more than 50 public transit agencies, 50 human service transportation providers, 15 transportation demand management agencies, and collaborates with 12 privately owned railroad companies.

Appointed as the Agency Director by Governor Timothy M. Kaine in June 2006. Reports directly to the Secretary of Transportation and is responsive to two boards, the Commonwealth Transportation Board and the Rail Advisory Board. Introduced significant new measures to strengthen DRPT's organization and operations through the development of improved performance indicators. Increased accountability for the investment of public funds and developed new management principles for agency programs.

AGENCY DIRECTOR

Responsible for directing the operations of DRPT, the state agency for rail and transit in Virginia, including six functional units that include strategic planning, rail/transit special projects, transit and transportation demand management, rail transportation and state safety oversight, finance and administration, and policy and communication.

- Works closely with federal, state, and local elected officials regarding transportation programs and projects.
- Leads the development of statewide plans for rail, public transportation, and transportation demand management.
- Implemented an agency reorganization to enhance agency performance across business areas, increase accountability and increase efficiency.
- Executed numerous agreements with public entities and private freight railroad companies to reduce congestion.
- Managed the transition of a $5 billion transit project to extend heavy rail service in the Dulles Corridor to the Metropolitan Washington Area Airports Authority.
- Coordinates with the Virginia Department of Transportation for the planning of significant highway projects.

Santa Clara Valley Transportation Authority - San Jose, California April 2001 to July 2006

VTA is responsible for bus and light rail operations, regional commuter and inter-city rail service, ADA paratransit, congestion management, specific highway improvement projects, and countywide transportation planning in Santa Clara County. The Transit Operations Division had more than 1,700 employees and an operating budget of $264 million in FY 06. Transit ridership across all modes and services totaled more than 40 million annually.

CHIEF OPERATING OFFICER

Responsible for directing VTA transit operations, comprising six functional units that included bus operations, rail operations, protective services, service and operations planning, support services and engineering. Prior to being promoted to Chief Operating Officer, served as Director of Transportation and Maintenance and Deputy Director for Bus and Rail Transportation.

- Served as the staff liaison to the Board of Director's Transportation Operations Subcommittee
- Implemented a series of reorganizations resulting in a net savings of more than $24 million for FY 04.
- Improved system productivity and efficiency by reducing operator absenteeism by 29%.
- Improved bus and rail service reliability from 97.92% in FY 01 to 99.35% in FY 04.
- Improved bus operations on-time performance from 92.8% in FY 01 to 96.6% in FY 04.
- Oversaw the successful implementation of two light rail extensions, community bus and bus rapid transit.
- Successfully negotiated contract modification with the labor union that resulted in the creation of new classifications for bus operators and maintenance personnel to support implementation of new service and reduced operating costs

City of Phoenix Public Transit Department – Phoenix, AZ October 2000 to April 2001

The Phoenix Public Transit Department operates fixed-route, express, community, circulator, and commuter bus service. Phoenix is a partner in Valley Metro Rail, the regional light rail that will serve Phoenix, Tempe, Mesa, and Glendale. The agency has an annual operating budget of approximately $125 million.

DEPUTY PUBLIC TRANSIT DIRECTOR

Managed and directed Regional Services Division of the Public Transit Department with oversight responsibility for marketing, customer service, business development, ADA compliance, and ADA certification functions.

- Managed regional marketing program, including advertising, promotion, and collateral materials production.
- Supervised development and administration of corporate image program for the regional system.
- Administered contract with private provider for information center operations, customer relations, transit center operations, and outreach services for the entire region.

Greater Richmond Transit Company (GRTC) – Richmond, VA September 1992 to October 2000

GRTC operates fixed-route, welfare-to-work, and paratransit service within the Richmond urbanized area, providing approximately 4.7 million miles of bus service annually with an operating budget of $25 million.

ASSISTANT GENERAL MANAGER

Directed internal operations of transit system providing more than 10 million annual customer trips utilizing 180 buses and 80 vans. Supervised 11 departments. Prior to being promoted to Assistant General Manager, served as Director of Planning and Grants Management and Manager of Customer Service.

- Developed the Annual Transit Development Program, which provides the five-year strategic, operating, and capital plan to support an annual capital and operating budget of $35 million.
- Developed the GRTC Regional Public Transportation Expansion Plan for the Virginia General Assembly.
- Developed the Richmond Regional Jobs Access and Reverse Commute Plan.

EDUCATION, PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT, and AFFILIATION

Virginia Commonwealth University, Richmond, Virginia
Bachelor of Arts, Political Science - Minor in Military Science, May 1992
Master of Urban and Regional Planning, May 2000
Eno Transportation Foundation, Washington, DC
Center for Transit Leadership, July 2005
United States Army, Captain in USAR, Honorable Discharge, November 21, 2005
Vice Chair for State Affairs, American Public Transportation Association, Present